EXPORT ORIENTED UNIT SCHEME (EOU SCHEME)

The Export Oriented Unit (EOU) scheme was introduced in the year 1980. The purpose of the scheme was basically to boost exports. It was introduced as a complementary scheme to the Free Trade Zone/ Export Processing Zone (EPZ) Scheme.

Over the years the Scheme undergone various changes and its scope also expanded substantially as compared to the initial Scheme, which was basically for manufacturing sector with the minimum value addition in terms of export earnings. The unit can be set up in the manufacture, services, development of software, repair, repair, remaking, reconditioning, re-engineering including making of gold/silver/platinum jewellery and articles thereof, agriculture including agro-processing, aquaculture, bio-technology, floriculture, horticulture etc. with the objective of exporting entire production except limited sales in Domestic Tariff Area (DTA).

The provisions of EOU Scheme are contained in Chapter 46 of Foreign Trade Policy and Handbook of Procedures. EOU can be set up at any area in India as per the convenience of exporter. The existing DTA unit can also be converted into EOU. The setting up of EOUs and their performance is monitored by the jurisdictional Development Commissioner in accordance with the provisions of Foreign Trade Policy. The
